We know what we are but know not what we may be – William Shakespeare

Head's Lines

As we have done for the past two years, we are participating in Speak out Stay safe, a programme from the NSPCC, which aims to help children understand abuse in all its forms and recognise the signs of abuse. Over this week and next, pupils are taught to stay safe by speaking out if they are worried. The programme is aligned with the curriculum and consists of age-appropriate, virtual assemblies and supporting classroom-based activities. The content is delivered in an engaging and interactive way with the help of Buddy, the NSPCC mascot. Further information can be found on their website.

Yesterday, we had our first family lunch, and it was the turn of our youngest children to share a meal at school with their parents and carers. The other classes will have an opportunity to do likewise over the next few weeks, and we look forward to seeing many of you then.

The weather is proving rather changeable at the moment. It is essential all pupils are appropriately attired for whatever the season throws at us.

This half term, our value in focus is truthfulness.

Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Romans 12:12

There is a prayer box near the signing-in point for parents – a group share requests confidentially. Our Reflection Champions maintain a prayer tree for pupils. They have written this prayer for us this week:

Dear God,

Thank you for the relaxing half term. Please help everyone be truthful in the new half term.

Amen

The headteacher has chosen this scripture for us this week:

Truthful lips endure for ever, but a lying tongue lasts only a moment.
Proverbs 12:19

Loving for today,
Learning for tomorrow,
Forever in faith

Physical Literacy

'At Northaw C of E Primary School, we are committed to promoting physical literacy as a fundamental aspect of our PE curriculum. We provide a broad and balanced programme of physical education that develops the motivation, confidence, physical competence, knowledge, and understanding children need to value and take responsibility for lifelong physical activity. Through a variety of sports, games, dance, gymnastics, and outdoor adventurous activities, pupils are encouraged to build coordination, agility, and resilience. We prioritise inclusive participation, ensuring all children develop the skills to move effectively and express themselves physically, while fostering positive attitudes towards health, teamwork, and personal challenge.'
