Head's Lines

Today is Hello Yellow, an annual campaign to raise awareness and funds for young people's mental health. There are days when all of us struggle with how we are feeling. Things can get tough, and it can be difficult knowing how to cope. For so many young people, when this happens, they do not always get the help they need, when they need it. They do not know where to turn, who to talk to or even if anyone else feels the same. By wearing yellow, we are saying no young person should feel alone with their mental health.

Next Week, on Tuesday and Wednesday, we have Parents' Evening. If you have not done so already, please book an appointment with your child's teacher via Arbor: pupils make most progress when there is a close working relationship between home and school.

Parents' Evening will be a little different this time as I now have parents and carers to meet in my role as teacher in Oak; however, I should still be available for brief conversations with others as headteacher. Mrs Whitaker, our Inclusion Leader, will also attend both events.

This half term,
our value in focus is thankfulness.

Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Romans 12:12

There is a prayer box near the signing-in point for parents – a group share requests confidentially. Our Reflection Champions maintain a prayer tree for pupils. They have written this prayer for us this week:

Dear God,

Since today is Hello Yellow, we hope people with poor mental health get the care they need. Thank you for the rain, but please keep the weather dry enough for us to use the field.

Amen

The headteacher has chosen this scripture for us this week:

First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is being reported all over the world. Romans 1:8

Loving for today,
Learning for tomorrow,
Forever in faith

School Uniform

We have a uniform as it can play a key role in:

- promoting the ethos of a school,
- providing a sense of belonging and identity,
- and setting an appropriate tone for education.

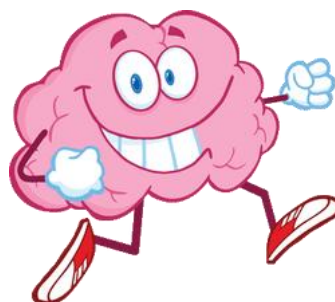

Expectations regarding school uniform have recently been clarified, reducing costs for parents and carers. Branded uniform is available from Smarty Schoolwear. Non-branded uniform is acceptable. The PTA maintain a lot of second-hand stock, which is available for viewing at events, including parents' evenings.

No child should wear hair dye, jewellery, make-up, nail varnish or temporary tattoos to school.

Dr Inglis' Brain Training

Several times a day. People from all over the world visit me. Some may think I'm dirty, even on my best day, but no one wants to live without me. What am I?

Answer: A toilet
