If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader
– John Quincy Adams

Head's Lines

It was a pleasure to welcome so many of you to school on Tuesday and Wednesday for parents' evenings. Educating children is, after all, a shared responsibility, and this partnership works most effectively when there is discussion and agreement. If you were unable to attend but would still like to participate in our survey, please follow this link.

As I recently informed parents and carers of children in Apples & Pears, Mrs Cole has decided to take a break from teaching while she concentrates on her health and is sadly leaving us. Miss Churchward has been appointed as teacher in Apples & Pears from September; this is a full-time role.

Additionally, now she has completed her training, Miss Churchward will be the sole teacher in Apples & Pears on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday after half term, and she joined Mrs Burton for parents' evenings this week. I would like to thank Mrs Swamy for the support she has provided since Mrs Cole left.

I wish you all a very restful half term.

Dr James Inglis
Headteacher

This half term,
our value in focus is service.

Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Romans 12:12

There is a prayer box near the signing-in point for parents – a group share requests confidentially. Our Reflection Champions maintain a prayer tree for pupils. They have written this prayer for us this week:

Dear God,

Thank you for the half term and a time of rest. Please let others be truthful this term and forever. Thank you for the weather; please help it spread joy through the holidays.

Amen

The headteacher has chosen this scripture for us this week:

I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength, that he considered me trustworthy, appointing me to his service.
1 Timothy 1:12

Loving for today,
Learning for tomorrow,
Forever in faith

Physical Literacy

'At Northaw C of E Primary School, we are committed to promoting physical literacy as a fundamental aspect of our PE curriculum. We provide a broad and balanced programme of physical education that develops the motivation, confidence, physical competence, knowledge, and understanding children need to value and take responsibility for lifelong physical activity. Through a variety of sports, games, dance, gymnastics, and outdoor adventurous activities, pupils are encouraged to build coordination, agility, and resilience. We prioritise inclusive participation, ensuring all children develop the skills to move effectively and express themselves physically, while fostering positive attitudes towards health, teamwork, and personal challenge.'

Dr Inglis' Brain Training

If a rooster lays a white egg and a brown egg, what sort of babies will hatch from each egg?

Answer: Roosters don't lay eggs, hens do.
