Head's Lines

Odd Socks Day, an opportunity to celebrate our individuality, marks the start of Anti-Bullying Week: 'Every year, bullying impacts the lives of countless young people and silence helps it grow. That's why, this Anti-Bullying Week, we're empowering young people to use their Power for Good to safely speak up and raise awareness when they see bullying, face to face or online. Lasting change needs all of us. From playgrounds to parliament, our homes to our phones — we all have a part to play. Together, we can use our Power for Good to end bullying — for good.'

The whole school also paused on Remembrance Day. Remembrance honours those who serve to defend our democratic freedoms and way of life. Remembrance does not glorify war and its symbol, the red poppy, is a sign of both remembrance and hope for a peaceful future. Remembrance unites people of all faiths, cultures and backgrounds, but it is also deeply personal.

Four pupils will have received golden tickets in the post last half term, and I look forward to partying with them and their friends next week.

Dr James Inglis
Headteacher

This half term,
our value in focus is
compassion.

Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Romans 12:12

There is a prayer box near the signing-in point for parents – a group share requests confidentially. Our Reflection Champions maintain a prayer tree for pupils. They have written this prayer for us this week:

Dear God,

Thank you for the rain, so the crops will grow. Please help us to be compassionate, helping those who are suffering.

Amen

The headteacher has chosen this scripture for us this week:

*Yet the Lord longs to be gracious to you;
therefore he will rise up to show you compassion. For the Lord is a God of justice. Blessed are all who wait for him!*
Isaiah 30:18

Loving for today,
Learning for tomorrow,
Forever in faith

Science and DT

When planning science and DT, we carefully follow the latest edition of Be safe! (Health and safety in school science and technology for teachers of 3-to-12-year-olds) from the Association for Science Education.

Sickness

The NHS is clear you can send your child to school with a cold, cough, headache, sore throat or stomach ache if they do not have a fever; cold sore or head lice, but please let us know, so we can look after them. If you are not sure, send them to school anyway as they often improve following registration and we would contact you should their symptoms become more concerning.
